MEMORANDUM
NUMBER 11-109

1 May 2024

Progressive Discipline Policy

I. Purpose

Employees are expected to conduct themselves professionally and at all times be mindful of the public expectations of the College and its employees.

This policy applies to classified and unclassified employees. This policy does not apply to faculty, temporary, temporary grant, and probationary employees. Probationary, temporary, and temporary grant employees can be disciplined at the agency's discretion. Matters pertaining to the conduct of faculty members are within the cognizance of the Deans of the College and the Vice President of Academic Affairs and may be referenced in the Faculty Manual.

For proper cause, any classified and unclassified non-faculty employee, regardless of occupation, position, profession, or work performed, may be reprimanded, suspended or terminated whenever such action is considered necessary by supervisors or other persons in positions of authority. Administration of disciplinary measures must be fair and equitable and free of prejudice or favoritism.

The employee's supervisor is responsible for ensuring that each employee is aware of personnel and departmental policies and procedures.

It is with the above intent that The Citadel establishes this policy relating to disciplinary measures for employees. Substandard performance issues are addressed in the Employee Performance Management System (EPMS) and are not a part of this policy.

II. Policy

Forms of Disciplinary Action

- A. Employees who are found to be in violation of the College rules will normally be given adequate opportunity to improve. Whenever possible, counseling and coaching should be used before formal disciplinary action is involved. Disciplinary actions, in general, are considered progressive and constructive measures for the correction of the conduct of employees. For this reason, such actions should be taken only to the degree of severity necessary to obtain the desired improvement. However, if the necessary improvements in conduct are not achieved, progressive discipline consisting of increasingly stronger disciplinary action will normally be followed. The nature and/or severity of the offense will determine which step of discipline is required. The normal and recommended progressive steps are as follows:

1. Verbal reprimand
2. Written reprimand
3. Suspension
4. Termination
5. Reassignment*
6. Demotion*

* May occur at any stage during progressive discipline process.

Determination of Action

- A. It is important that a supervisor conducts a thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances, including the employee's explanation, prior to administering disciplinary action. This requires a supervisor to actively seek information in a fair, objective, and nondiscriminatory manner.
- B. At the verbal and written stages, the supervisor will determine the action appropriate to the infraction based on the severity of the offense, mitigating circumstances, previous infractions, etc.
- C. Assistance in determining the appropriate action may be provided through the Human Resources Department.
- D. No disciplinary actions beyond a written reprimand may be taken without being authorized by the Agency Director or a designee. If a suspension or termination is warranted, disciplinary action of this nature must be reviewed in advance with the department head, appropriate Vice-President or his/her designee, and Director of Human Resources or his/her designee before such action is given to an employee.
- E. The Director of Human Resources or his/her designee should review the case to verify that there is just cause for suspension or termination, approve the appropriate length of suspension based on past practices, and ensure that the information presented is fair and nondiscriminatory. suspensions and terminations will be written and signed by the Human Resources Director or his/her designee.

III. Voluntary Resignations and Performance Issues:

Employees who voluntarily fail to report to work for three consecutive workdays and fail to contact their supervisor during this time period will be considered to have voluntarily resigned. All performance related problems should be addressed by the guidelines established in the Employee Performance Management System.

IV. Employee Comments

The employee may attach additional comments to any disciplinary action, if desired, within 3 days of receiving the action.

V. Disciplinary Action

1. Verbal Reprimand - An employee should be given an verbal reprimand for minor offenses. The supervisor should talk privately with the employee and cover the following:
 - a. Review exactly what is expected of the employee and why.
 - b. Allow the employee to give the reasons for his/her conduct.
 - c. Make suggestions for correcting action.
 - d. Specify further disciplinary action will be taken if similar problems continue to occur.
 - e. Record the date of the interview and other pertinent information for future reference. This written notice should be placed in the employee's departmental personnel file.

In the event the supervisor considers second or subsequent verbal reprimands to be the appropriate disciplinary action, the department head should be informed and may be requested to be present during the counseling session.

2. Written Reprimand - If, because of the seriousness of the first offense, or if the employee has repeated the first offense that warranted an verbal reprimand, and the supervisor determines that a written reprimand is warranted, the following action should be taken:
 - a. The supervisor should prepare a written summary of the case and make a recommendation to the department head for his/her approval.
 - b. The written reprimand may be in letter or memorandum form and must specify details of the employee's conduct.

NO PROMISES OR ASSURANCES, WHETHER WRITTEN OR VERBAL, WHICH ARE CONTRARY TO OR INCONSISTENT WITH THE TERMS OF THIS PARAGRAPH CREATE ANY CONTRACT OF EMPLOYMENT

- c. If the employee has repeated the violation covered in the prior verbal reprimand, the supervisor should review again with the employee the points covered in the verbal reprimand. If the offense is the first, and of such a serious nature as to warrant more than an verbal reprimand but does not warrant suspension or termination, then a written reprimand should be given to the employee. The supervisor should indicate in the letter or memorandum that conduct must improve within a given period of time.
 - d. The written reprimand should include the corrective action needed, and a notice to the employee that a recurrence of the same type conduct may result in further disciplinary action.
 - e. The supervisor should review the written reprimand with the department head before delivering it to the employee.
 - f. The supervisor should then review the written reprimand carefully with the employee. It should be signed by the employee with an indication that it has been received and understood. If the employee refuses to sign, the supervisor and a witness should certify in writing that it was delivered and explained to the employee. A copy should be given to the employee. A copy of the written reprimand should be forwarded to the Director of Human Resources. It will become a permanent part of the employee's personnel record.
3. *Reassignment or Demotion: A reassignment or demotion may be a proper disciplinary action at any stage in the progressive disciplinary process. If the supervisor feels that a reassignment or demotion might benefit the employee and the College, then the supervisor should recommend to the department head that the employee should be reassigned to a position classified at the same state salary range or demoted to a position classified at a lower state salary range. At the discretion of the President, a demotion may be with or without a pay reduction. After the supervisor has made his/her recommendations, the following will be accomplished:
- a. The appropriate Vice President or his/her designee will review the recommendation of the reassignment or demotion. His/her decision will be made after having received a written summary of the case which was prepared by the supervisor and reviewed with the department head.
 - b. If the Vice President or his/her designee upholds the reassignment or demotion, the supervisor will forward the recommendation to the Director of Human Resources for review and approval. The Director of Human Resources will inform the department head of appropriate action to be taken. The supervisor and the Director of Human Resources will inform the affected employee and review the entire case with the employee. Employee notification shall be in writing.

- c. A copy of the letter will become a part of the employee's permanent personnel file.
4. Suspension - The seriousness of the offense will determine the length of the suspension. All suspensions are without pay.
 - a. A written summary of the case will be prepared by the supervisor, reviewed by the department head, the Vice President, and a recommendation made to the Director of Human Resources or his/her designee.
 - b. The Director of Human Resources is authorized to process suspensions. The suspension letter will be written and signed by the Director of Human Resources and forwarded to the supervisor to be given to the employee with a copy to be placed in the employee's permanent personnel file.
5. Termination - This is the most serious disciplinary action and should be taken only after a careful review of the case.
 - a. An employee may be terminated due to the frequency or serious nature of misconduct. Very serious offenses may be cause for immediate termination without prior progressive disciplinary steps.
 - b. A written summary of the case will be prepared by the supervisor, reviewed by the department head, the Vice President, and recommendation made to the Director of Human Resources.
 - c. The Director of Human Resources is authorized to process terminations. The termination letter will be written and signed by the Director of Human Resources and forwarded to the supervisor to be given to the employee with a copy to be placed in the employee's permanent personnel file. If the employee is not at work, the Director of Human Resources will mail the letter to the employee by certified mail.

VI. Workplace Violence

Section 7, Chapter 1, Title 1 of the 1976 Code of Laws, Article 21, Workplace Domestic Violence Policy (Section 1-1-1410) requires every state agency to develop and implement an agency workplace domestic violence policy and adopt a "zero tolerance" approach to the act or threat of violence of any kind. If employees engage in any violence in the workplace, or threaten violence in the workplace, their employment will be terminated immediately for cause. The "zero tolerance" approach must be applied to all forms of workplace violence.

These include, but are not limited to:

- Physical-the use of force in order to harm;
- Threats-expressions of intent to inflict injury;
- Harassment-words, gestures, and actions which tend to annoy, alarm, or abuse another person;

- Property damage-intentional damage to property owned by the state, employees, visitors, or vendors; and
- Domestic-physical harm or injury or an offer or attempt to cause physical harm or injury by a household member.

VII. Guidelines

A suggested guideline for disciplinary action is below. This list is not all inclusive and is intended only as a guide. This list is to improve the consistency of the disciplinary actions taken and the circumstances surrounding each offense must be fully considered. Disciplinary actions are subject to management's discretion.
