

John Olson
Retired Partner, Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher

John is a retired partner and one of the founders of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher's Washington, D.C. office. He has represented firms and individuals before the Securities and Exchange Commission and other federal agencies in both regulatory matters and enforcement investigations. Mr. Olson has served as Chairman of the ABA Business Law Section's Committees on Corporate Governance and Federal Regulation of Securities. He was a member of the Presidential Task Force on Corporate Responsibility appointed by the President of the ABA. He has served for many years as a member of and liaison to the Business Law Section's Corporate Laws Committee, for which he chaired task forces which prepared a comprehensive report on insider trading laws and several editions of the Corporate Director's Guidebook. He was elected to NACD/Directorship Magazine's Corporate Governance Hall of Fame in 2013. He is regularly ranked among the top securities advisory attorneys in the District of Columbia by Chambers USA and has been listed every year since 2007 in Who's Who of Corporate Governance Lawyers by Who's Who Legal. He was selected by his peers for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America® in every edition published since its inception 30 years ago.

