

Jon Mason

Jon Mason is a Client Partner in Korn Ferry's Executive Pay and Governance practice, who specializes in creating strategically-informed compensation and governance programs that support organization and talent strategies and drive sustainable value creation.

Mr. Mason has nearly 20 years of experience, primarily as an executive pay and governance advisor.

Mr. Mason works with major public and private corporations across multiple industries. His clients range across the spectrum from Fortune 10 companies to small family-owned businesses.

Before joining Korn Ferry, Mr. Mason was most recently a senior leader in a global human capital consulting firm's executive rewards practice for 10 years. He also has corporate retail experience working at The Home Depot.

Jon holds an M.B.A. in Finance from the Goizueta Business School at Emory University and a B.A. in Political Science with a minor in Economics, also from Emory University.

