ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Aug 2016-present The Citadel Charleston, SC

Assistant Professor of Intelligence Studies

- Teach classes related to intelligence analysis, intelligence history, national security law, and ethics.
- Conduct peer-reviewed research on national security issues.

- Run wargame scenarios involving IC practitioners and Citadel cadets to reinforce analytical lessons.
- Organized the historic panel of FBI agents who investigated Watergate on 2/12/20; the panel marked the first time that the FBI agents came together publicly to tell their story. This panel arose from research for my book, Nixon's FBI: Hoover, Watergate, and a Bureau in Crisis (Lynne Rienner, August 2020)

OTHER POSITIONS AND EMPLOYMENT

Jul 2015-Jul 2016 The University of Mississippi Center for Intelligence and Security Studies

University, MS

Interim Director

- Oversaw a multimillion-dollar budget and teaching staff for an academic minor of 80 students.
- Designed curricula and programs targeted to undergraduate students.
- Ensured deliverables were met for ODNI Centers for Academic Excellence grant.

Aug 2011-Jul 2016 The University of Mississippi Center for Intelligence and Security Studies

University, MS

Instructor

- Taught intelligence analysis, writing, and briefing to upper-level college students.
- Taught about the history of the intelligence community, the intelligence community's relationship to policymaking, and national security law to introductory level college students.
- Chaired senior level students' theses and capstone projects relating to intelligence and national security.

Dec 2012-Jul 2015 The University of Mississippi Center for Intelligence and Security Studies

University, MS

Associate Director

- Conducted research on behalf of CISS including drafting grant proposals, overseeing book and article projects, and overseeing faculty research grants. Drafted grant proposal that allowed the Center for Intelligence and Security Studies to become one of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence's Centers for Academic Excellence in 2012.
- Oversaw and produced Days of Intrigue, a weekend-long intelligence and policymaking case study to teach elite students from across the nation about how intelligence analysis interacts with policy. The case study has become a standard across the Intelligence Community for university analytical training, as evidenced by the Defense Intelligence Agency's adoption of the Days of Intrigue model for its Centers for Academic Excellence program. The case study includes practitioners from US intelligence agencies (CIA, DIA, FBI, NSA, and State INR as well as US politicians who serve as team leaders for CISS students) and incorporates students from the University's intelligence minor and public policy major.

- Prepared student presentations for Five Eyes Analytic Workshop, an international intelligence conference hosted by the Intelligence Community and partnering universities.
- Established and maintained academic collaborations with university intelligence studies programs in the United Kingdom. Because of this collaboration, CISS cohosted a series of international intelligence research workshops with Brunel University as well as held study abroad programs and engaged in scholarly publishing opportunities.
- Managed center projects including international conferences / workshops, collaborations, and publications.
- Oversaw student research, including presentations to U.S. and foreign intelligence agencies.

May 2014-Present American Council on Education

Washington DC

Curriculum Reviewer

- Travel to military bases to review intelligence curriculum and provide undergraduate / graduate course credit.
- Interview military personnel to award college course credit based upon job duties.

Jan 2012-Sept 2012 Institute for Intergovernmental Research

Tallahassee, FL

Contractor

- Researched and wrote a report related to the future of policing and criminal law.
- Presented policy recommendations before the Department of Justice's Director of Bureau of Justice Association and the Police Futures Association in Washington, DC.

Oct 2008-Dec 2012 The University of Mississippi Center for Intelligence and Security Studies

University, MS

Project Coordinator

- Recruited high performing high school and university students to intelligence minor. Cohort GPA averages in the 3.7-3.8 GPA range.
- Managed budgets for grant-related projects, totaling over $6 million.
- Traveled and presented at academic conferences as a representative of the center.

- Ensured program compliance with state and federal laws.
- Oversaw conference logistics for three international conferences.
- Wrote grant proposals and appropriations requests, resulting in an award of $6.8 million in federal government appropriations and $1.3 million in grant awards.

May 2008-Jul 2008 District of Columbia Office of Attorney General
Washington, DC

Summer Associate

- Drafted legal documents including motions, guardianship petitions, letters, and research memos.
- Corresponded with DDS case managers concerning court order statuses.

Jun 2007-Jul 2007 Institute for Criminal Policy Research, King’s College
London, England

Research Intern

- Wrote literature reviews on social, mental, and criminal issues for inclusion in the Institute’s peer reviewed publications.
