General Baiden recognized Mr. McMahan, thanked him for his service as The Citadel Graduate College Student Association President, and welcomed Mr. Falkenbury, who will replace Mr. McMahan.

General Baiden called on the President for his report.

President Rosa reported that the current semester had gone well, but as always there was room for improvement. One of the highlights of the semester was the exceptional winning streak of the basketball team which created a great deal of excitement and enthusiasm on campus and with alumni.

Due to budget uncertainty, the administrative team has been extremely diligent in maintaining current operations and moving forward in planning for future contingencies. Areas of critical concern are the budget for SY 2009-2010, the transition to a new technology system, and the monetary impact on strategic planning. President Rosa emphasized that despite the many challenges facing the college, the primary goal of staff and faculty was to keep moving forward to serve student needs and keep the school functioning at the highest level. The staff continues to prioritize financial requirements and finalize strategic planning objectives.

President Rosa emphasized the critical importance of the Krause Leadership Center to the future success of the college. To further enhance its capabilities, Brigadier General Harrison S. Carter has been assigned to the center.

President Rosa highlighted the success of this year’s Leadership Symposium. Thirty-five students from eleven colleges and universities attended. He pointed out that the key lesson learned this year was the need to develop ways to get more involvement in the symposium from Citadel underclassmen.

Within the Corps, the president pointed out that all the key indicators showed improvement, but challenges remain to get the Corps to meet standards and expectations required at the next level of excellence. A major concern is the upswing in student attrition which jumped to 18% this year, an increase of 4% over last year.

The president and the Commandant’s office are working on options to enforce college standards, reduce attrition and eliminate hazing. He will report progress on these initiatives at the June meeting.

The Athletics Department was commended for an outstanding job of stabilizing the budget, and realizing a surplus for the first time in ten years. General Rosa also informed the board that an agreement had been reached with VMI to reinitiate the football series in 2011 for six years.

In closing, the president emphasized the current budget challenges due to the uncertainty of the level of state support the college will receive, the need to replace Capers Hall, and the potential renovation of the fourth division of Stevens Barracks to enhance enrollment.

General Baiden thanked the president for his report and complimented him on his outstanding performance and called for committee reports.

General Baiden, Chair of the Executive Committee, no report.

Colonel Douglas A. Snyder, Chair of the Finance Committee, reported the following for information purposes only:

That the college’s state appropriation status is still in flux and that SY budget 2009-2010 will be built with an option of both including and excluding Federal stimulus funds.

General Baiden called on Colonel Edward Carter, president The Citadel Alumni Association, for remarks.

Colonel Carter briefed the board on the renewal of the building lease with the Corps of Engineers which was contingent on the parking lot being paved, the retirement of Ms. Barbara Fairfax and Mr. Joel Lake, which occasioned a personnel staffing review headed up by president-elect, Colonel Ralph Tice, and he distributed an excellent report by Mr. Ted Curtis on “Big Red”, the flag flown by The Citadel Corps of Cadet during the War between the States.

Mr. Curtis, through exhaustive research, has determined that the flag captured by an Iowa Regiment during the War Between the States, is in fact, “Big Red” the flag flown by the Citadel Cadet Artillery detachment that fired on the “Star of the West” on 9 January 1861 from Morris Island. Negotiations are underway with the State of Iowa to arrange a display of the flag at the alumni house.

General Baiden called on Mr. Mark Nash, President of The Citadel Brigadier Foundation, for remarks.
Mr. Nash reported that he expected about 500 guests to attend tonight’s Brigadier Club Annual Auction and hoped to raise $150,000 for Citadel athletics. Two other initiatives he discussed were the development of a highly professional membership brochure which was sent out to 22,000 alumni and the establishment of a new $25,000 Brigadier Club membership level. He encouraged all board members to attend the auction.

Mr. Dennis Bergvall, Executive Director of The Citadel Foundation, representing Foundation Chairman Coe, was called on for remarks.

Mr. Bergvall provided an extensive brief of the current status of the foundation and discussed the positive initiatives being taken by the foundation to counter the reduced giving due to the current dismal economic environment. Steps include both personnel and budget reductions, integrating college strategic plan initiatives into foundation goals, emphasizing class reunion giving and additional outreach to local community leaders. The foundation will continue to provide a maximum degree of financial support to the college.

General Baiden complimented Mr. Bergvall on his presentation and thanked him and his staff for all of their dedication and hard work to support the college.
