Part I
College Organization
College Organization

• The Citadel is a military college

• A military system is used as the framework for training cadets to become “Principled Leaders.”

• The Citadel is unique in that both a military and college structure are combined to enhance the overall student experience.

• The organization of The Citadel is similar in many ways to the organization of units found in the United States Army.
President of the College

• Like all other colleges and universities, all of The Citadel’s Operations are led and overseen by a college president.

• At The Citadel, The President is a General Officer from one of the branches of the United States Armed Forces:
President of the College

The Citadel’s president is General Glenn Walters (USMC).

- Has served as the 34th Assistant Commandant of the United States Marine Corps.
- Has served 39 Years in the USMC.
- Is a Marine Corps Aviator.
Similar to other colleges, The Citadel has a Provost (Dean).

The Provost specifically oversees and is responsible for all of The Citadel’s Academic Affairs.
Provost/Dean

• The Citadel’s Provost is Brigadier General Sally Selden.

- Has served as Provost at the University of Lynchburg.

- Holds a PhD. From University of Georgia

- Holds the Senior Professional in Human Resources (SPHR) Certification.

- Has published more than 150 books, book chapters, articles, papers, and technical publications.
Commandant of Cadets

• Because The Citadel is a Military College, it has a Commandant of Cadets.

• The Commandant of Cadets is responsible for overseeing the daily functions of the South Carolina Corps of Cadets.
The Citadel’s Commandant of Cadets is Captain Geno Paluso, (USN, Ret.).

- Captain Paluso Graduated from The Citadel in 1989.
- Served as a Navy SEAL Officer.
- Commanded Naval Special Warfare Group 3.
Commandant’s Department

- To assist the Commandant in overseeing the daily functioning of the Corps of Cadets; there are Assistant Commandants and a SgtMaj.
