

VITA

Gardel Feurtado,

Professor and Head, Department of Political Science

The Citadel

Teaching Areas

International and comparative politics
American foreign relations
Development issues
Regional studies (Asia, Latin America, South Asia, Middle East, and Africa)
Politics of terrorism (international and domestic)
Comparative leadership
Public administration
Minority group politics in the U.S.

Current Research

Transnational terrorism's impact on American foreign relations.

"Leadership" as the Missing Element in the "Sustainable Development" for the Third World Movement.

Research Areas

Right wing extremist populist movements
Terrorism
Politics of modernization
Science, technology and modernization
The political impact of globalization on Third World Societies
The role of the military in politics

Selected Scholarly Activities

(1) Publications

1999. The New "Democratic Governance" as Substitute Neo-Colonialism in the Third World. Papers on World Development, Centre for Political Economy, University of the West Indies, Mona, Jamaica (Oct.).

1998. A Reflection on Intelligence Constraints on Countering Domestic Terrorism in the 1970s. Conflict Studies Institute, Palo Alto, Ca. (Nov.).
1997. The Military Rule and Revolutionary Politics in Suriname. New York: The Caribbeana Society {Occasional Papers on Politics and Change, No. 3, May}.
1997. "The Democratic Prescription for the Third World: Quackery or Solution?" In: Journal of World Political Affairs. 10:4 (Aug.).
1996. "The Military and Politics in Suriname: A Case Study of the Limits of Politically-Induced Change." In: Selected Proceedings of the Third Biennial Conference, Culture, Technology and Change in the Americas. Eds. W. Stavig and S.R. Wohlmuth. (Tampa, Fl: University of South Florida, Caribbean & Latin American Studies Center.
1996. A Review of the Legislative Issues Pertinent to Domestic Terrorism, Part II: Federal Organizational Structure and New Legislative Initiatives. (June).
1995. A Review of the Legislative Issues Pertinent to Domestic Terrorism, Part I: The Oklahoma City Bombing the Underlying Federal Response Authorities. (June).
1994. "The Carter Administration and the Third World: A Comment." In: Jimmy Carter: Foreign Policy and Post-Presidential Years. H. Rosenbaum, ed. Westport, CT: Greenwood Press.
1972. "The People's Republic of China and the Third World," In: China: Inside the People's Republic. Committee of Concerned Asian Scholars, New York, Bantam Books.
1972. "The Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution in Heilungkiang and Hopei Provinces," In: Asian Survey (October).
- (2) The following were government-sponsored publications [for the National Foreign Assessments Center [United States Central Intelligence Agency]—based on overseas field work in China, interviews and other research conducted by the author).
2007. China: Limitations on Technology Absorption.
2005. China: Modernization Strategy in Transition.

2003. (With the assistance of Zhao Bailing, Stanford University), The Factional Factor in Chinese Politics.

2002. The Sino-American Security Relationship: The Chinese Perspective.

2002. (With the assistance of Bao Shyu and Jin Kuemin, Taiwan National University Research Papers), Communist China-United States: Political Implications of Growing Economic Interdependence.

Selected Conferences

2003. Panelist. Black Interest Group Impact on American Foreign Policy Africa.. Association of Black Political Scientists.

1998. Panelist. "Post Cold War Independence Issues." Latin American Studies Association.

1997. Panelist. "The Third World in the Post-Cold War World Order." National Association of Black Political Scientists.

1996. Panelist. "Are "Third World" Studies Still Necessary?" 23rd Annual Conference of the Third World Foundation.

1994. Presenter, "The Military, Politics and Change in Suriname." Third Biennial Conference on Culture, Technology and Change in the Americas.

Manuscript Reviewer

Books

Almond, et. al., Comparative Politics Today. 2001 and 2002. Longman Publishers.

Johnson and Wirth, Strategic Intelligence. 2002. Roxbury Publishing.

White, J. Terrorism. 2002. Thompson-Wadsworth Publishers.

White, J. Homeland Security. 2002. Thompson-Wadsworth Publishers.

Clark, R. Intelligence Analysis. 2001. CQ Press.

Gamer, Understanding Contemporary China. 2001. Lynne Rienner.

Hoffman, Inside Terrorism. 1998. Columbia University Press.

Articles

"The Future of Hamas as a Post-Terrorism Actor in a Projected Palestinian State." Journal of Conflict Resolution. 2001

"Reforming the Security Council for the Post-Cold War World." Southeastern Political Review. 1996.

"International Migration, Ethnic Conflicts and Multicultural Policies." Southeastern Political Review. 1994.

Other

Seminars and Workshops

2000. Conference 2000, Relevance: The Intelligence-Operations Partnership. Sponsored by the Joint Military Intelligence College, Ft. McNair, D.C.

1996. Case Method Teaching Seminar and Workshop. Sponsored by the Walker Institute, University of South Carolina.

1995. Workshop on the International Impact of Migration. Sponsored by the Walker Institute, USC and the European Community Studies Association.

1994. Seminar on Current Issues in International Terrorism. Hoover Institution.

Research Grants, Awards and Honors

Recipient of 8 Research Grants from the Citadel Development Foundation since 1990.

Recipient of Krause Award for Excellence with Undergraduate Students.

2000 & 2002 Recipient of "Professor of the Year in Political Science" from the Political Science Honor Society.

2000. Recipient of Award for Selfless Service as Adviser to the Citadel African American Society.

END